

PUBLIC HEALTH CRIME (ARTICLE 318 TER OF THE CRIMINAL CODE)

Any person who knowingly, and with the authority to control the work of another within an organization, orders them to attend to a workplace other than their residence, whilst the worker, as instructed by the authority, is under mandatory sanitary isolation or quarantine, shall be punished with imprisonment of its minimum to medium degree, and a fine of 10 to 200 UTM¹ for each worker ordered to attend their workplace under these circumstances, defined as “public health crime”.

¹ 1UTM = aprox. To USD 60 (as of July 2022)